Hi, I’m Matthew, and I built Data Science training with R and Python to help people like you Get over your math phobia or learn Data Science from scientists and educators.

If you’ve always wanted to...

- Don't get trapped into buying expensive software; "Freedom from lock-in"
- Connect to a community of R users
- Be adaptable and flexible by using a tool that has a growing base of add-ons and new ideas

...then this course is for you!

In this 1 week program, I’ve included everything you need to know, including:

- Learn to use R so that you can use it like Excel.
- What can we learn by playing with numbers
- Standard Operating Procedures lend themselvs to reproducible work.

Data Science training with R and Python is now open, and I invite you to enroll today!
